Late Seating Policy

Late seating is subject to availability and is not guaranteed. As a courtesy to other patrons, latecomers will not be seated in their ticketed seats once the play has begun.

Most shows for NC Theatre begin at 7 p.m. for evening performances and 2:30 p.m. for matinees. If a patron arrives after the show has started, we will make every effort to get them into late seating in the back of the house upon arrival, regardless of where their ticketed seat is. Patrons may relocate to their ticketed seat at intermission, should the show have one. Patrons will remain in late seating for the duration of the show when there is no intermission.
